2016-17 annual report to our community

a change-filled year

It's amazing
2016-17

what can happen in just one year. During the 2016-17 school year, we welcomed sixth graders into our middle schools. We celebrated two major groundbreakings. And we found a new home for our alternative program. The best news? That's just the beginning.

We are proud of what we accomplished over the past year, and we are excited about what's ahead. We're ready for changes. We're ready for growth. We're ready for the future! Thank you for helping us get there.

David McVicker
Superintendent, Central Kitsap School District

Our focus areas are critical to our mission and goals. They provide a foundation for the changes occurring throughout the district. Reading is the key to almost everything. Engaging students keeps them interested and excited about what they're learning. And ensuring equity means that every student will have what they need to succeed, without regard to gender, income, language, race or zip code.

our test results: making academic gains

Smarter Balanced assessments measure critical thinking with questions that ask students to demonstrate their research, writing and problem solving skills. These new assessments were given for the first time during the 2014-15 school year. The results allow us to better monitor progress and help students succeed.

We successfully piloted an initiative to expand students' access to technology.

At the district level, we give STAR assessments throughout the year. The results help us tailor instruction to individual students along the way and increase academic growth.

third grade reading success matters

We want all our students to read on grade level by the end of third grade. Why is this so important? Because reading is the foundation for learning. In fact, reading proficiently by the end of third grade is the most important predictor of high school graduation and career success. Our third grade reading scores continue to increase. We're headed in the right direction!

your tax dollars spent wisely

Most of our spending directly supports classroom instruction. In fact, we spend more money on teaching and teaching support than the state average—and less on administration. In every area, we strive to use your tax dollars responsibly. Reports from the Washington State Auditor's Office confirm that we are meeting this goal.

educating for the future

Thanks to the support of our community, we are making major improvements to schools across the district. Some schools need a variety of repairs, from fixing leaky roofs to repairing heating systems. Others need more. The bond approved on February 9, 2016, includes two new replacement schools—Central Kitsap Middle and Central Kitsap High—plus a large modernization at Olympic High school and an addition at Klahowya Secondary School. We are also making safety upgrades at all schools. Safety is our top priority.

Adoption teams researched and recommended a new K-8 math curriculum.

Our district covers a 100 square-mile area in and around Silverdale, Washington. We are the fourth-largest employer in Kitsap County.

Today we are welcoming more students of diversity than ever before. In addition, about 30 percent of our students qualified for free or reduced price meals and more than 400 qualified for homeless services. All our students have different needs. We work hard each day to address those needs. We want every student to succeed—both in school and in life!

we are changing

We are welcoming more families of diverse ethnicity than ever before. In the past 16 years, the number of children who identify as students of color has increased from 22 percent to 39 percent. Nearly 40 different languages are spoken at home by our families. Or consider that 431 of our students qualified for homeless services last year, and almost 30 percent of our students qualified for free or reduced price meals.

During the 2016-17 school year, almost half of our students were federally connected (49.62%). Of those, approximately 22 percent are active-duty military family dependents.

These realities impact our schools and the ways in which we are connecting with families and meeting our students' needs. Reading and math interventions, highly capable services, our summer academy program and counseling services are just a few of the ways we support students and their families.

STUDENT RACE / ETHNICITY

Over the past year, we set a foundation for growth, and we are seeing the results already. Good things are happening in our schools. And there are more changes ahead!

The new Barker Creek Community School will provide options for students who thrive in a non-tradition classroom setting.

Thanks to the support of our community, we broke ground on four construction projects including Olympic High School and the Operations Service Center.
